THE BALTIC INSTITUTE OF FINLAND

The diligent diplomat

The Baltic Sea Region is one of the world's fastest growing, competitive and innovative economic areas. It is a major European region with strong cooperation structures and an increasing sense of shared identity. It is home to more than 60 million people in 11 countries, with eight capital cities and some 50 cities with more than 100 000 inhabitants.

The Baltic Institute of Finland promotes cooperation with other parties operating within the Baltic Sea Region. It is a diligent diplomat, an open and reliable partner. The Institute is an expert in brainstorming and managing projects with other international parties within the Baltic Sea Region. The Baltic Institute of Finland helps different parties to meet and shake hands.

The Baltic Institute of Finland – your representative at international forums

The Baltic Institute of Finland is an independent project organization established in 1994 to facilitate the launch of concrete cooperation projects within the Baltic Sea Region. Its mission is to create and maintain international cooperation networks and to develop regional activities.

The Institute's operations are based on confidentiality, transparency and strong specialist competence. Its core competence covers in-depth knowledge of the Baltic Sea Region and identification of various needs. The Institute has a diverse cooperation and contact network and sound experience in international projects.

We can work together to tailor our project services to meet your needs and expectations. We place our experience, expertise and extensive international contact network at your disposal. Don't hesitate to contact us!

We open up opportunities for international cooperation

Project activities

The Baltic Institute of Finland has long-standing and diverse experience in brainstorming, designing and managing various international projects. Our project services enable you to leave the administration side of things to us and focus on your core business – the actual substance of your projects. Our services cover the entire project life cycle from planning to management, communication and final reporting.

We have designed and coordinated international projects in the following areas in particular:

- the information society
- the environment
- innovations
- internationalization of business
- culture.

The Baltic Institute of Finland has long-standing and diverse experience in funding and management of EU and other international projects. Our comprehensive international contact network guarantees a high-quality project application.

We bring experts together

Forum activities

We organize international forums: conferences, seminars and workshops. Forums bring together experts in different fields, creating fruitful dialogue, interesting debates, new contacts, cooperation opportunities and concrete activities.

We take responsibility for designing, implementing and promoting the events.

We convey information about the Baltic Sea Region and cooperation opportunities

Education and information services

The Baltic Institute of Finland has operated in various projects within the Baltic Sea Region for more than 10 years and is familiar with the regional characteristics, needs and partners. Through our education services, we offer tools to meet the demands of international project activities. Our website offers topical information about the economy, developments, requirements and ongoing project activities within the Baltic Sea Region. Our site is your portal to international cooperation projects.
